Reviewed by Vernon N. Siebel Published on Feb 13, 2014 Rating: 10/10 I was fairly excited for this game from the beginning. I have seen many people on my streams play this game (a lot) as I first bought this game a month ago. They said it was amazing, and if you had never played a mmog before, or a fantasy themed game, you NEED TO PLAY THIS GAME. Fantasy is my favorite genre to play, and as I've gotten older, I've gotten tired of tower defense, sports games, and so on. Fantasy games has always been what I've played since I was a kid. The only game that I played that was similar was Final Fantasy X, and that wasn't a fantasy game. I didn't have a cool mage, or an elf, or a half-orc. It's just an RPG. But I wouldn't have had a cool story. Ever since I played Ragnarok Online, I always thought it was a really cool game and its story was pretty epic, but it didn't have any real fantasy elements to it. I've never played Path of Exile before, but they were mentioning it in their streams and I've always been interested in what kind of games they were making. Since this game seemed like a fantasy game with an MMO, I bought it. So the last time I've played a game with a fantasy background was Diablo III. I've always wanted to play an action rpg and so this game seemed like it would be right up my alley. As I was playing the game, I realized that this game has some really good qualities that I've never seen in a game before. To start off, the game's engine is really good. You're able to view so many things in the game from 3D to 2D. There's so much going on at any one time. You are able to move right around in the world and there is so many things you can do. When I first played this game I was trying to level up and get to a new zone. I hadn't seen anything of this zone, but after a couple of battles, I decided to hop on my mount and fly around. I started to see all these vines that I had never seen before, and it was so nice to be able to fly around and see everything. bff6bb2d33
