Kaspersky Cleaner was reviewed by Kirk Wilson, last updated on February 6th, 2019Q: How to do the difference of 2 datetime data in python using looping? I want to calculate the difference between two different dates using python 3.7 This is my first example which I made by using while statement: when the day change from 12:00 to 12:00, I want the difference between a and b to be 0 when day change from 12:00 to 24:00, I want the difference between a and b to be 5 when day change from 24:00 to 0:00, I want the difference between a and b to be 24 trying to make the 2nd case happen but failed. My code is below: import datetime a = datetime.datetime.now() b = a.replace(day=13) delta = b - a delta = delta - datetime.timedelta(seconds=24 * 3600) print(delta) Please help! A: If I understand your question correctly, the code below will calculate the time in seconds for 24 hours of 12:00 difference. It takes into account if the difference is from 12:00 to 12:00, or from 12:00 to 24:00, or from 12:00 to any other hour. import datetime a = datetime.datetime.now() b = a.replace(hour=12) delta = b - a delta = delta - datetime.timedelta(days=0, seconds=24 * 3600) while True: if delta.seconds >= 0: print(delta.seconds) break if delta.seconds >= 5 * 60 * 60: print(delta.seconds/60/60 - 5)
