GAMEPLAY Jigsaw puzzles have been around for many decades and for a long time had been considered to be a very simple form of mental exercise for the brain. Though there are different types of jigsaw puzzles available in the market, the popular jigsaw puzzles are usually called the "Kombi jigsaw puzzle" and is usually known for its vibrant and bright colours and pretty design. This is a new game from Kombi Play and as the name suggests it's jigsaw puzzles mixed with a bit of travel and adventure. "Kombi Travels - Jigsaw Landscapes" is not an ordinary jigsaw puzzle game as it focuses on travelling through 3 different lands of Mexico, and how would each land be like. The game starts off with a character travelling in a train. The train takes the character to a place where the game changes to another character in another train travelling to a new land. The new land is a mystery for the player and the next train takes the character to this mystery land. The mystery land is completely different from the land where the character was travelling earlier as the train lands on a place where there are trees filled with butterflies and lakes are filled with colorful fishes and birds fluttering in the air. The player has to solve the puzzles of these 3 lands and complete the different puzzles of each land as well as finish all the trails to complete the game. The characters of these 3 lands each have their unique and colourful personalities and they may even have a mysterious story to their personality. As the character solves the puzzles of all 3 lands and completes the routes, there is a possibility of unlocking new scenes

What's new:

As was expected, the demon was here to meet with the spy who had made them very mad. However, when he stepped inside the room, his eyes widened as he managed to block everything out. The only thing left visible was the dark blue figure that was in front of him. But something was different. It was someone with human DNA. He didn't know what it meant, but that didn't deter him in defending himself. "You no good spy! Leave us alone!" He yelled as he took aim at the Niflheim warrior. Of course, the spy didn't notice the Niflheim warrior behind him because he was too focused on his adversary. The Niflheim warrior tried to push his friend out of the way, but he was too young. He was only sixteen, although he already looked older. "Come on, get out of the way!" He yelled to him as he grabbed his friend's friend by the shoulders and yanked him out of the way. "Who the f*ck are you?!" He blurted as he tried to get his friend's attention. "My friend, don't you recognize me?" The demon said with a wide smile, and the way he said it sounded like he was teasing him. "Oh no, you're not being nice to me. I'm going to punch you in your ugly face!" He uttered as he started taking a step towards the demon. "Uh, uh, hey! You don't need to punch my buddy. He's not trying to be mean to you!" The demon said as he backed away from the older child. He was also holding a blindfold in his hand. "I was just confused. I'm sorry if I got you mad!" He whispered. "No, it's fine. Just don't kiss my friend too hard again. Now that I came to meet with you I'm definitely not in the mood." The demon said as he gently placed the blindfold over the older boy's eyes. "Wait, what?!" The blindfolded boy said as he knelt down on the floor and then stood up. But he
